

COURSES

Skills Enhancement for Political Advisors, (POLADS) 5th Edition

The interdisciplinary nature of political advising

Thematic cluster:

Diplomatic Tradecraft

Course dates:

12 -14 June 2019

Course location:

Geneva, Switzerland

Political advisors are instrumental in the decision-making processes of peace and security. Their effectiveness is of fundamental importance both on the ground and at an international level. Their duties require them to synthesise information rapidly, to develop a comprehensive understanding of the context and key issues at hand, and to convey that understanding and analysis to their institutions at varying levels, while building and nurturing meaningful relationships. This course builds the skill sets and networks that political advisors need to carry out their work more efficiently and effectively.

COURSE FOCUS:

The course is the opportunity to sharpen skills and acquire knowledge through an intensive hands-on curriculum under the mentorship of expert educators. Substantive inputs are followed by group work on case studies, providing valuable learning opportunities through exchanges between participants – all experienced professionals – and the course leaders, who serve as mentors.

A selection of the following focus areas will be covered:

- the role of the political advisor
- political and conflict analysis
- intelligence analysis
- working with the media
- effective communication
- political reporting
- speechwriting
- negotiation

COURSE BENEFITS

The course is part of a series of skills enhancement modules created by the GCSP for targeted audiences. Over the past seven years, more than 250 political advisors have developed their skill sets in GCSP courses tailored to their specific professional needs.

As a participant, you will:

- enhance the skill sets required to be an effective political advisor
- learn from the knowledge and experiences of experts and practitioners
- build an international network of political advisors
