

COURSES

Inspiring Women Leaders

Skills to influence. Strategies to succeed.

Thematic cluster:

Gender and Inclusive Security

Course dates:

3 - 4 October 2019

Course location:

Geneva, Switzerland

Support, growth and development are essential for all leaders, but gendered differences create unique opportunities and challenges for women, particularly when they are pioneers in their field. This course builds skills and mindsets to succeed, and creates a platform for participants to engage with a network of peers and senior mentors and executive coaches.

This course is run with the Geneva Leadership Alliance, a first-of-its-kind partnership that brings together in-depth understanding of peace, security and policy issues at the GCSP, as well as over 40 years of research and expertise developing leaders through the Center for Creative Leadership (CCL).

Course focus:

This course teaches participants the latest innovations in leadership education on leading self and others, and the art and tactics of influence. It equips them to use the knowledge and skills in a supportive and creative environment.

GCSP's location in the heart of international Geneva enables us to bring together a diverse range of participants from across sectors, and international leaders as role models and mentors.

COURSE BENEFITS

This course will enable you to:

- Understand the mindsets and behaviours of high achieving women to overcome gendered barriers;
- Deepen your perception of yourself, and develop your confidence and resilience;
- Discover and practice tools and techniques to effectively lead, influence and collaboratively engage with others;
- Build connections with peers from across sectors and exchange experiences;
- Create a strategy for your career growth and benefit from individual post-course coaching to apply it.

Testimonial from a past participant

“ This is the first women's course that I ever attended. It has been one of the best learning experiences I've had. We really learnt from each other, and we had mentors who were also excellent. It gave me an insight into things I was doing well and areas for development and improvement.
